A PROPOSITION TO KEEP THE GRAND SHOW OPEN UNTIL JANUARY-KEELEY GRAD-UATES OUT IN FORCE-NOTES

Chicago, Sept. 15.-After a conference with a number of foreign Commissioners, the World's Fair Directors have called a special meeting for next Monday night, to discuss the feasibility of exending the Exposition until January 1, 1894. It has been understood for some time among the managers of the Fair that it would be kept open later than October 30, the time fixed by Congress, if the attendance in the later months seemed to justify such a move. The heavy gate receipts and sudden increase in the regular daily crowds gave the directors encouragement enough to justify serious consideration of the project. The Director-General was consulted, and while he thought it impossible to make an extension for another year, he said it might pay to postpone the end until January. A number of the foreign Commissioners took the same view of the matter when it was presented to them. They said that while a large number of exhibits had been sold for delivery at the close of the Fair, October 50, it would be a comparatively easy matter to secure duplicates from the home establishments and maintain their sections intact for two months longer.

Five hundred members of Keeley leagues, rep resenting every State in the Union except Florida nd South Carolina, marched behind Dr. and Mrs. Keeley this morning with their wives, sisters and laughters, all of whom wore league badges. The band of the Old Soldiers' Home at Leavenworth, Kan., led the way, and Andrew J. Smith, the Govrnor, walked in line with the reformed veterans rom that home as well as the Soldiers and Sailors' Home at Milwaukee. The procession marched to the Administration Building, where words of welome and encouragement were spoken by the Director-General. Then the procession moved to he Illinois Building, where the exercises were held. Twelve hundred delegates, representing 600 clubs of President Grover Cleveland and family-the new baby included, of course, if possible-will visit Chiington early in the coming week to lay the matter know the President practically promised to return and see the Exposition when he left after the cere monies of the inaugural day. And Mrs. Clevelandwhy, she must come by all means. Mrs. Cleveland has not yet seen the Fair, and that means a great

Cardinal Gibbons and a large party of friends visited Jackson Park yesterday. In front of the Building they took Director-General Davis's electric launch and paid hurried visits to Administration, Agricultural, Manufactures, the Administration, Agriculturing buildings, taking in Electrical and Mines and Mining buildings, taking in Electrical and Mines and Mining buildings, taking in La Rabida on their way. They then went to the Ohio buildings, where the Cardinal paid his respects to Governor McKinley. The Cardinal left here today for Dubuque. To a reporter he said: "It seemed to me like fairyland. I had read all about it. and seen all the pictures, but they convey no idea whatever of the sight. The sight from the Grand Basin in front of the Administration Building was simply overpowering."

"The Tribune" this morning says that evidence for irregularity or perhaps fraud has come to ght among the minor employes in the Transcortation Department of the World's Fair. The ntire contents between the covers of one bill exister have been torn out, as also a number of leaves from another. The amount involved may be large or small. Despite the assertion that the mount taken is small, the statement was made last vening that investigation so far shows a shortage of $108,000.

THE PARLIAMENT OF RELIGIONS.

ORIENTAL SCHOLARS DEFENDING THEIR VARI OUS FAITHS-AN ADVOCATE OF THE FIRE WORSHIPPERS.

Chicago, Sept. 15 .- Despite the continuance of the extreme heat, the temperature of the early morning hours being but a few degrees below that of yes-terday, which was the hottest day of the year Chicago, there was no diminution in the size of the crowd that besieged the Art Institute and sought admission to the various halls in which the several departments of the World's Parliament of Religions are being conducted. Perhaps Wilkes could not trot up to her best form, the old trouble it was only a coincidence that the torrid heat on the outside bore some relation to the programme on the inside, for the leading speaker of the day was the noted exponent of Zoroastrianism, Ervad Sheriarji Dadabhai Barucha, of Bombay, who in H. proved the gamest among the 2:10 trotters, her vie a clear, forcible style explained and defended the nets of the fire worshippers. The Buddhists who have figured prominently on the programme since the beginning of the parliament had another inning to-day, their advocates being Bauriu Yatsubschi and Prince Chandibral, of Slam. Still more was added to the advocacy of Confucianism in an address from Kung Hsienho, of Shanghai.

Between these addresses Professor Hardy, of the University of Freiburg, resumed the history of the study of comparative religion and Professor God-speed, of the University of Chicago, told what the dead religions had bequeathed to the living. Next to the general parliament interest centred this morning in Hall No. 8, where the session of the Theosophical Congress was formally inaugu rated. The hall was crowded, and Mrs. Annie Besant was the central figure of the occasion. Presiden Bonney welcomed the Theosophists and several of the delegates made happy responses. The other congresses in session to-day were those of the Lutheran Women of the Church of the New Jerusalem and of the Universalists.

Notable among all the affairs that have taken place in the Woman's Building at Jackson Park was a reception in honor of the Parliament of Religions tendered last night by the Board of Lady Managers. Mrs. Potter Palmer welcomed the delegates. President Palmer, of the National Com-mission, and President Highbothan were also pres-ent, as were also a number of prominent Chicago clergymen and many prominent ecclesiastics from

A BIG FOREIGN ORDER FOR RADIATORS.

Chicago, Sept. 15.-The American Radiator Com pany of this city, New-York and Boston have today closed contract at their World's Fair exhibit with the official engineers of the city of Hamburg. Germany, for four carloads of their celebrated American steam radiators, to be used in heating the magnificent new municipal buildings in that city. This is the largest of the many foreign contracts this company have secured as the direct result of the World's Fair, and, like many others, they are enthusiastic about the possibilities of es-tablishing a large foreign export business.

THE ATTACK ON THE ELECTION LAWS

GIVING AID AND COMFORT TO SILVER MEN. From The Boston Journal.

From The Boston Journal.

The narrow Democratic partisans in the House lave given aid and comfort to the free silver men in the Senate by their decision to force the question of the repeal of the Federal Elections law. It deems more than likely that they meant to do so.

IT SHOULD BE OPPOSED IN EVERY WAY. From The Chicago Inter Ocean.

When it comes to the repeal of the Federal Election law the Republicans of both branches of Congress should show a united front and use every parliamentary resource to prevent the passage of the bill.

IT IS BAD POLITICS.

From The Philadelphia Ledger.

The Democrats can pass the bill repealing the Federal election laws whenever they choose to make a quorum of the House without the aid of the Republicans, and for that reason they should not precipitate a partisan discussion on such a subject while the bill to repeal the Sherman act is pending. It is bad politics.

NO OCCASION FOR IT AT PRESENT. From The New-York World (Dem.).

For the House to debate and pass this bill now will surely arouse a partisan feeling which it is better to avoid. There is no occasion to bring the measure forward now.

NOT POLICY TO BRING IT UP NOW. From The Baltimore Sun (Dem.).

The Federal Election laws, which the Democrats desire to annul, undoubtedly ought to be blotted to but it is questionable whether it is good policy to bring up this issue while the great and pressing mancial question is still unsettled.

WATTERSON APPROVES OF SHOOTING. From The Louisville Courier-Journal (Dem.). John Davenport and his Force bill methods and measures may as well come down out of that tree. The Davy Crocketts of Democracy are sure they are right and they are going to shoot.

FLYING JIB TIES MASCOT'S WORLD'S PACING RECORD-THE GREAT FREE-FOR-ALL TROT FOR THE EXPOSITION

PURSE STILL UNDECIDED. IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Chlcago, Sept. 15 .- Chiefly through an utter disregard of the rules, there was another postponement of the sensational race for the purse of $15,000 at Washington Park to-day. Four heats were finished seemed to be lending their consent to the rascality, as they did nothing to the driver of Pamlico. Several other races on the card were not reached, but the time trials by Directum and Flying Jib were th carried out. The high wind and cloudy skies made the conditions unfavorable for record-breaking, but the pair of cracks from California made splendid efforts at the champion marks. Directum was sent to beat his own record of 2:07, and being better rated than in New-York, trotted the mile in 2.061/2. He went to the quarter in 33 seconds, the half in 1:03, the threequarters in 1:344, and came home with a record half a second below his previous best mile. This places the record for stallions the fraction lower, and for the four-yearold mark-down as well. Flying Jib was asked judges excused themselves for the breach by say ing it was done by consent. This error was folcago October 9 to take part in the celebration of lowed by a much more grave one, in which the Chicago Day at the Fair, if a plan projected by President Ferdinand W. Peck, of the Union League Club, bears fruit. "I intend to leave here for Washlast, instead of being ruled out. Pixley finished ahead after cutting Alix off, but the heat went to Lord Clinton, who was next to the leader. Alix fought gamely in the next three heats, though unable to get home in time to end the long struggle. Pixley proved wonderfully good and secured her first heat in the sixth mile of the race, beating Alix an open length and reducing her record to 2:09%. Then Hamile's Nightingale stole through at FREE-FOR-ALL-TROTTING-COLUMBIAN EXPOSIthe pole and captured the seventh heat by a spurt in 2:12%. Pixley had got in a pocket that time, but came out the freshest of the seven survivors for the eighth heat, and won in slow time. For the second time this important contest had to be carried over on account of darkness, and the ama-teur judge has played havoc with what promised an attractive race. Hulda was unable to start to-day through the injury which she sustained in the fourth heat yesterday, which, however, is not likely to be permanent.

A one-sided affair between a couple of two-yearolds was placed first on the card this afternoon, Cervis winning as he pleased and getting a good mark for a youngster. Pamlico was a 2 to 1 favor-ite for the 2:15 trot and won easily after dropping two heats. The second time this was done, Pamlico was pulled out to let Clara D. through at the pole, was so clearly fraudulent that the judges > RACING FOR THE CAPE MAY CUP. THE BRITANNIA SLIGHTLY AHEAD OF THE NAVAHOE WHEN LAST SEEN.

Sept. 15.-The Britannia and Navahoe started this afternoon to race for the Cape May Cup, which was won in 1885 by the British cutter The Pritagnia was slightly in the lead. The closeness of the race for the Brenton's Reef Cup on Tuesday, in which the Britannia and Navaboe were pitted against each other, added greatly boats from Southampton, Cowes, Ryde, Southsea and other yachting centres started long before daybreak for the Needles, where the start was made. The course was nearly the same as that ed over for the Brenton's Reef Cup, from the Needles, the western extremity of the Isle of Wight, and around the breakwater at Cherbourg.

France, and return, a distance of 120 miles. It was the original intention to have the Britannia and the Navahoe run down from Cowes last night and anchor in Alum Bay, which is about two miles from the starting point. This was to have been done in order to have the yachts ready for an early start, it having been decided by the Sailing Com-mittee that they should be sent away at 7 o'clock. A dense fog set in last night, however, and it was deemed safer to let them remain in Cowes Roads over night. The fog lasted through the night and early this morning, and the plans of the Sailing early this morning, and the plans of the Sailing Committee were consequently disarranged. It was not until 250 o'clock this morning that the racers started in tow for the Needles.

There was scarcely a chance that anywhere near as good time would be made to-day as was made in Tuesday's race. The wind was blowing a light breeze from the southwest and the sea was smooth. The starting line to-day was drawn from a markboat in Alum Eay, about two miles to the eastward of the Needles. This made the course four miles tonger than Tuesday's course. The Britannia got away first after the starting gun was fired, crossing the line about three minutes ahead of the Navahoe. The yachts were timed as they passed the Needles Lighthouse as follows:

The Britannia kep' her lead, and as they began to drop below the southern horizon there appeared to be no change in their relative positions. The wind was light.

STEAM YACHT RACING AGAIN.

MR. MUNRO HAS STARTED IN TO WRITE LETTERS. AND THERE IS LOTS OF FUN IN SIGHT.

The Norwood-Vamoose season has set in with nusual severity. Norman L. Munro has bought the Vamoose for $10,000, and has sold her again, but will have control of her for five weeks, furing which he proposes to have fun. He has written a characteristic letter, in which he says that he purchased the Vamoose for the purpose of settling the question of the relative speed of that boat and the Norwood, and makes the following proposition:

I invite the Herreshoffs, the builders of the Vamoose, and William R. Hearst, her former owner, to place in her engine and boiler-room the most expert engineers and firemen America can produce, to put an expert pilot at her wheel and to man her to suit themselves all at my expense. Then I ask that the Vamoose be sent for a record, first over a measured mile, secondly over a twenty-mile course, and thirdly over the American Yacht Club's course of $2 knots—so that Messrs. Herreshoffs and Hearst may publicly verify their statements regarding the speed of the Vamoose or be obliged to pronounce her a most stupendous failure.

The Norwood will be sent over the same

The Norwood will be sent over the same courses, after the 'Vamoose has finished, and her speed under similar conditions accurately ascertained.

If the Herreshoffs and Mr. Hearst refuse to adopt this plan, which, as already stated, will cost them absolutely nothing, then the name of the yacht which heretofore was and now is the Vamoose will be changed to the hishly appropriate and suggestive one of Led Astray, and she will pass into her new owner's hands with a guarantee from me that she can speed over an X-knot course at the rate of 18½ miles per hour.

Mr. Munro, resing in the letter writing most, has also written the following letter:

I accept Messrs. McBride Brothers' challenge and will race the Norwood five miles on the Hudson against the Yankee Doodle for $5,000, the amount they name. Will give them three weeks, the time they desire, to get ready.

They must send a certified check for the full amount, which will be covered forthwith.

If they insist on the Vanmoose entering I shall consider it a bluff. NORMAN L. MUNRO. Altogether it was a good day yesterday for steam vacht racing, and Mr. Munro improved it It is doubtful if he did not make his best record.

IN THE FIELD OF POLITICS.

TO BRING THE PRESIDENT TO TERMS. MACHINE DEMOCRATS MAY "HANG UP" NEW-YORK APPOINTMENTS UNLESS MR. CLEVE-LAND SUPPORTS MAYNARD.

Senator Murphy, Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan, ex-Chamberlain Richard Croker, Senator Cantor, Police Commissioner Martin and other machine Democrats held conferences at the Hoffman House yesterday. One of the topics discussed was the possibility of forcing President Cleveland to avow a desire for the election of the "combine's" candi date for Judge of the Court of Appeals, Isaac H. Maynard. Not a little reliance was expresed in the policy of Senators Hill and Murphy of "hanging in the Senate Cleveland's New-York appointments until the President "comes to time. one of the thirty-eight nominations to offices in this State which Mr. Cleveland has sent in since the extra session of Congress began has been confirmed. The list includes the names of Collector Kilbreth, Appraiser Bunn, George S. Weed, son of Smith M. Weed, for Collector at Champlain; Postmaster Dayton, of New-York, and Postmaster Sullivan, of Brooklyn, and a long array of Anti-Snapper postmasters and consuls. Messrs, Hill and Murphy are members of the committees which pass upon all the collectors, appraisers, postmasters, consuls, district-attorneys, marshals and like officials. The President protested against the placing of the two New-York Senators upon these commit-

The coterie at the Hoffman House were extremely indignant yesterday because of a report that Mr. Croker had written to Mr. Cleveland, requesting him to address a letter to somebody in New-York indorsing Maynard and throwing the Administration mantle around him. It was said that Mr. Croker had advised the President that such a letter as he wrote for Colonel Fellows when the Colonel was running for District-Attorney in 1887 would about fill the bill. Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan and Senator Cantor, speaking for Mr. Croker, last evening hotly denied that he had made any such request of Mr. Cleveland. They were plainly of the opinion that Mr. Croker would never so far humillate himself as to seek the President's assistance in that way.

The Boss of Tammany is not that kind of a man He commands and exacts services. He would rather He commands and exacts services. He would father suffer defeat than to supplicate. He has started out after the patronage of the New-York Custom House and the rest of the Federal offices here, and with the aid of the New-York Senators he proposes to make Mr. Cleveland do as he directs. It is true that the President has so far withstood the pressure brought upon him in Maynard's favor, but the "combine" is not discouraged.

DECIDED FOR MAYOR MANNING. HILL DEMOCRATS NOT HAPPY OVER THE ACTION

OF THE SPECIAL TERM. Albany, Sept. 15 (Special).-The Hill Democrats here are not in the best humor to-night. The reason for this is the decision in the local election officers' case which was handed down by the Special Term, sitting in Saratoga to-day, which is in favor of the Herrick wing of the party. The opinion is written by Justice D. Cady Herrick nd is concurred in by Justice Mayham, while

Justice Putnam dissents. The Hill Democrats say that nothing else could be expected of Mr. Herrick, for he was back of Mayor Manning in the selection of election inspectors, and directed the Mayor's actions. The law provides that the board of election officers shall consist of the Mayor, the president of the Common Council and a person to be designated by the minority members of the Council.

Thus the present board is composed of two Demo-crats, Mayor Manning and President Armatage, and one Republican, Mr. Gregory, Because of Mr. Armatage going over to Mr. Hill's forces, the Herrick men declared war on him, and tried among other things to oust him from his office. The law also provides that the list of election officers submitted from the majority members must be adopted, while that of the minority member, Mr. Gregory, shall be accepted as presented. When the board met last spring all three mem-bers had lists. Mr. Gregory voted with Mr. Armatage upon the adoption of the Armatage list. Mr. Manning's list was not considered at all. Mr. Manning held that under the circumstances he was the minority member, and caused his list to be published as the official one in "The Argus," the county paper, which he was then holding with county paper, which he was then holding with armed guards.

The Herrick officers were sworn in and served, and the Armatage men brought the suit decided today. The decision was not much of a surprise. The case will be carried to the Court of Appeals.

REPUBLICANS ALERT IN JERSEY CITY. The Republicans of the IVth Assembly District of Hudson County, which comprises the southern part of old Jersey City and a part of the old Ber en district, are making active preparations for the fall enrolment. Books will be opened next Mon-day at No. 41 Gregory-st., and will be kept open all the week. A competent committee will be in charge each day, a number of well-known men having volintegred for that purpose.

The Vth District Republican League of Jersey City on Wednesday night voted unanimously against nominating any fesion candidate for sheriff or any other office. The members of the League believe in straight candidates. The political outlook was thoroughly discussed. Chairman Edward W. Woolley, of the Hudson County Republican Committee, has appointed Henry Ewald, John A. Robertson and John Atkinson to draft resolutions congratulating Mayor Wanser, of Jersey City, upon his recovery, and also complimenting Acting Mayor Reuben Simpson upon the manner in which he discharged his official duties and protected the city's interests during Mayor Wanser's Illness.

----TRYING TO DISCOURAGE REPUBLICANS. The Aldermen of Jersey City met last night and changed the precinct lines of the six Assembly districts into which the city is divided. The Democrats laid down the lines so as to discourage voting by Republicans as far as pos-sible. There is one precinct with only thirty votes, while others have as many as 1.400. In all the big precincts the polling place is put at one end of the precinct. Three new precincts were created.

Daniel Fox, sixty years old, living at No. 155

train Thursday night at Ludiow station. S. M. Pettit, the station agent, nearly lost his life n a successful attempt to save the man. Fox entered the station and went out on the platform, where he stood for some time. When he heard the signal giving warning that a train was approaching he stepped on the track with his back in the irection of the approaching train. Pettit warned the man of the danger, but he did not move. Pettit then rushed from the station and attempted to pull Fox from the track. The man fought hard to throw himself across the track. As the train approached the men Pettit and Fox fell to the ground across the track. Pettit, with all the strength he could summon, gave Fox a violent push, and the two rolled over at the side of the rack as the train whirled by. ## ANOTHER PLEA FOR HELP.

MAYOR GILROY ASKED TO CO-OPERATE.

THE CITIZENS OF HEAUFORT ASK RELIEF FOR

THE SEA ISLAND SUFFERERS-THEIR

DESTITUTE CONDITION.

Mayor Gilroy yesterday received an appeal from the Sea Islands Relief Committee, which is ad-dressed to the American people, and asks for aid for the victims of the West Indian cyclone on August 27. The appeal is signed by George Holmes, Mayor of Beaufort; S. C. Robert Smalls, Collector of Customs; W. H. Lockwood, president of the Bank of Beaufort; N. Christensen, George W. Ford, Charles B. Donner, Thomas F. Walsh and E. F. Courvoisier, merchants. The appeal sets forth that the disasters caused the loss of more than 800 human lives, while fully 2,000 persons became home less, whose houses, cattle, crops and provisions had been destroyed, and that fully 6,000 more were depending upon charity for existence. It goes on to

There is scarcely a house saved from the storm which the tide did not invade and in it destroy whatever food, provisions and clothing were accumulated for the suste nance of the family, and there is not a grain of corn or a pod of cotton left in the fields washed by the raging sea.

The destruction was complete. Plantations which only a few days ago were dotted with next cottages and outbuildings, the result of many years of hard toil, and occu-pled by happy and contented families, are now devastated. Fields give not an indication of their former habitation, except for the dead bodies of the families of the owners, left there by the receding waters. Those people bear their misfortune with fortitude and esignation, but with mute appeal they now ask for shelter and bread until those who are seeking work may succeed be enabled to raise another crop. The distress exists all over the Sea Islands among the colored population, and has assumed proportions beyond the efforts and abilities of local aid to alleviate. We do, therefore, in the name of local aid to alleviate. We do, therefore, in the hame of the destitute and starving thousands of colorea people upon the islands, appeal to the generous hearts of the land for that aid which has ever been extended when great calamities like this befail a people.

Mayor Gilroy says that he will be glad to receive subscriptions for the relief of the sufferers and will forward them to the committee.

Grand total..... OBITUARY.

DR. EDWIN N. COLT.

Dr. Edwin N. Colt died yesterday at his home, No. $5 Morton-st., Brooklyn. He was eighty-three years old, and had practised in Brooklyn over sixty years. He enjoyed good health until two years ago, when he became ill with the grip. His last illness began in July. Dr. Colt was born in Hinsdale, a small village near Pittsfield, in Berkshire County, Mass., August 7, 1811. He attended the Wilbraham Academy, in Wilbraham, Mass., and in 1828 entered the Berkshire Medical School. He received the degree of Doctor of Medicine in 1832. sician of that day. Dr. Colt's early practice was in the hospitals of Albany. He moved soon from that city to Brooklyn, where he lived until his death. He stood high in the estimation of his professional brethren. In March, 1892, a dinner was given in his honor, which was attended by physicians from all over the country. He married Miss Lydia Hale Brewer in 1834, and several children were born to them. He was one of the founders of the Eastern District Industrial Home, in Williamsburg, and of the Eastern District Hospital and Dispensary.

JAMES R. ALLABEN.

James R. Allaben, an ex-Assemblyman and a leading Republican of Brooklyn, died on Thurslay at the home of his daughter in Hawthorne-Flatbush. He was seventy years old, having en born in Roxbury in October, 1823. His father's farm adjoined that of the father of Jay Gould. He was educated at the Delaware Academy and studied law while teaching school. In 1845 he was dmitted to the bar and practised in Delhi until 1861, when he removed to Brooklyn. In 1860 he was a Republican Presidential Elector. He was appointed to a position in the Custom House under President Lincoln and was afterward a Quarantine Commissioner. In 1879 he was a member of the Assembly from Brooklyn, later was made an Assor of Internal Revenue. In 1873 he took part in the Liberal Republican movement and was associated with the leaders among the supporters of Mr. Greeley in Brooklyn. In later years he resumed his party activity and was a member of the Republican County Committee at the time of his death. He was long a resident of the Twentyfirst Ward of Brooklyn, and active in all party matters there. He devoted much of his time to his profession in recent years. The death of his brother, who was an ex-Judge and ex-Senator in Delaware County, left Mr. Allaben one of the executors of a large estate, and he worked hard in settling it. His law office was in the Garfield Building and he was associated in practice with ex-Judge W. R. Maben. Mr. Allaben was twice married, his first wife dying in 1873. He left two sons and one daughter. The fun-takes place from the home of the daughter

CUMMINGS HATFIELD TUCKER. Cummings Hatfield Tucker died at Orange, N. J., on Wednesday in the seventy-third year of his age. Mr. Tucker was born in Elizabeth, N. J., on March 12, 1821. He came to New-York to learn the mason's trade and was identified with it for forty years. For thirty-five years he lived in one house, No. 358 West Thirtleth-st., in a part of the city known in early days as Strawberry Hill, Chelsean In early life he became connected with the West Presbyterian Church, then in Broome-st., now Dr. Paxton's Church, in Forty-second-st. Later he built and was connected with the North Presbyterian Church at Thirty-first-st. and Ninth-ave. Later he and his family united with the Collegiate Church, Forty-eighth-st. and Fifth-ave. Mr. Tucker had been president of the Central Park, North and East River Railroad. He was an alderman in 1854 and he served two terms in the State Legislature. During the war he aided in the equipment of Federal troops. In 1869 Mr. Tucker celebrated the sliver wedding himself and Miss Mary Alice Woodruff at their home in West Thirtieth-st, this city. His surviv-ing family is composed of his widow, Francis C. Tucker, of Newark; William A. Tucker, of No. 19 John-st.; Cummings H. Tucker, Jr., Edwin B. Tucker, the lawyer, of No. 115 Broadway; Mrs. Thomas C. Ennever and Miss Emma V. Tucker. The funeral was held yesterday at No. 89 Hal-stead-st., Orange, at 2 p. m.

THE REV. DR. ROOKER ARRIVES HERE.

HE IS THE BEARER OF SPECIAL MESSAGES FROM THE POPE TO MONSIGNOR SATOLLI AND CARDINAL GIBBONS.

Among the passengers on the White Star steamship Britannic, which arrived here yesterday morning, was the Rev. Dr. F. Z. Rooker, vice-rector o the American College at Rome, who comes to America as a special envoy of the Pope. He brings with him important sealed letters from His Holiness addressed to Monsignor Satolli and to Cardinal Gibbons, which are believed to bear on the troubles now existing between certain Catholic bishops and the Papal Ablegate. These letters Father Rooker will deliver in person. He had expected to leave for the West at once for this purpose, but when the steamer arrived he received letters granting him permission to first visit his home in Albany, where he has not been for two years. The letters will be delivered later. Father Rooker also brings a portrait of the Pope for presentation to Cardinal Gibbons. It is carved for presentation to Cardinal Gibbons. It is carved in stone in bass-relief, and is set in a golden frame, studded with diamonds and other precious stones. The work was done by artificers of the Vatican, and is a masterpiece of its kind.

Albany, Sept. 15 (Special).—Dr. Rooker reached here at 10 o'clock this evening to spend a few days with his father, Myron H. Rooker. He was accompanied by Judge John W. Walsh, Judge Andrew Hamilton and Eugene Woods, Albany friends. He was met by his father and other members of the family. He went directly to Ballston, to see his mother, who is staying there. Father Rooker said that he was the bearer of documents from the Pope to Monsignor Satolii, the nature of which he did not know. He had informed Monsignor Satolii, who is at Butte, Mont., of his arrival, and that he bore messages for him, and would await his pleasure for an appointment in this city. This, he thought, would be not later than Tuesday.

This, he thought, would be not later than Fuesday.

He also said that it was the earnest desire of the Pope to express his pleasure at the coming silver anniversary of Cardinal Gibbons's consecration, and that he was the bearer of a token of esteem from the Pope to the American Cardinal. This testimonial, he said, had been wrongly described. He did not care to give a correct description of it, however, before he had delivered it to Cardinal Gibbons.

Father Rooker said he was delighted to be in his native city again, and that he would probably remain in this country several months.
